

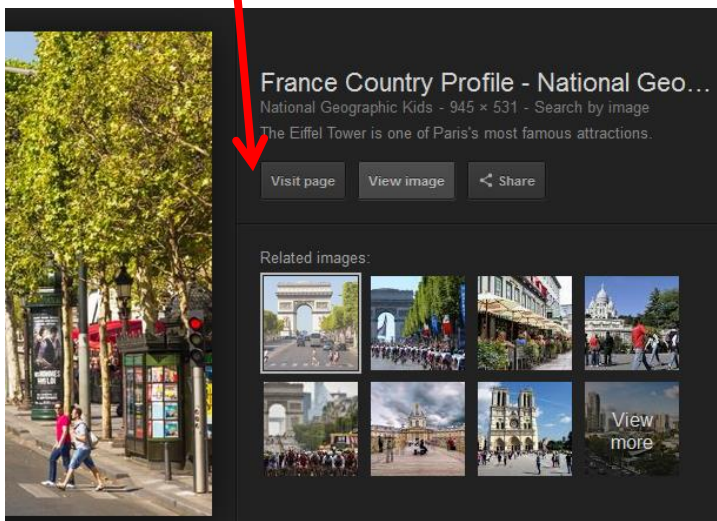

IMAGE CITATIONS

Any image that you use from the web requires you to complete a full citation using a citation tool since it is not provided for you. The URL alone from the site on Google Images is not the proper citation format.

In order to obtain the complete information for the image (see photo template on left) you should do the following:

- Visit the page on which the image is found.

- Provide the artist's name, the work of art/photo italicized, the date of creation, the institution and city where the work is housed. Follow this initial entry with the name of the Website in italics, and the date of access.
- If the work is cited on the web only, then provide the name of the artist, the title of the work, and then follow the citation format for a website. If the work is posted via a username, use that username for the author.
- You can also search by usage rights to find images. Filter for those “labeled for reuse.”
